MANY EASTER SERVICES

How The Day Was Observed All Over The City.

SOME EXCELLENT MUSIC PRESENTED

Many Interesting Programs at The Different Edifices Make The Day One Long to Be Remembered in Bellefonte.

Special Easter Services were held in most of the Bellefonte churches yesterday and it is gratifying to say that they were all well attended. Much to the relief of everybody it turned out to be a lovely day thus affording those who had them, a chance to show their new bonnets and dresses.

Probably the most elaborate program was that at St. John's Episcopal church. Beautiful floral decorations made the interor of the church at picture of beauty. Both morning and evening services were largely attended and it was the general opinion, that the music as rendered on Sunday was the finest ever herd in St. John's church. Organist W. A. Goodwin deserves much credit for the successful rendition of the program. For weeks he had been drilling his choir for the occasion and every auditor was more than pleased. During the service pretty solos were sung by George Bayard and Master Samuel Hart. They fairly out did themselves with their parts and many were the flattering comments made on the rich tenor and the sweet soprano. The services whereas follows.

WITH THE LUTHERANS.

The service at the Lutheran church on Sunday was one of Scripture Recitation and Song for the Children's Church Extension Sunday. A special program had been arranged and the services were appropriate to the day they were celebrating. The music was far above the ordinary and this fact helped considerable in making the service so successful. It was also communion day and four were received into the church by profession of faith, six by certificate, four by adult baptism and thirteen by confirmation. AT THE PRESBYTERIAN.

Good music had considerable to do with the successful services at the Presbyterian church. Prof. W. T. Meyer had a well arranged program which was skillfully handled by the choir. The services both morning and evening were well attended. Rev. William Laurie D. D. preached two appropriate sermons which were very interesting and instructive. In the morning a beautiful selection was rendered by a quartett and in the evening Miss Henrietta Butts sang a very pretty solo. The music all through was exceptionally fine and reflected much credit upon Prof. Meyer and his choir. After the morning services Communion was held and there were in the neighborhood of twenty persons received into the church The services were as follows:

AMONG THE METHODISTS.

Special Easter service were held at the Methodist church on Sunday, the most elaborate of which were those of the Sunday School in the afternoon. Potted plants and flowers arranged by skillful hands made the interior of the church looked very pretty. On a platform running almost across the room near the pulpit which was handsomely decorated for the occasion were seated the scholars who took part in the exercises. The program was a very pretty one and was rendered in a way that showed much time and trouble in its preparation. The services were as follows.

COUNCIL'S LONG SESSION

An Immense Amount of Work Done by Borough Fathers.

THE "BALL AND CHAIN" FOR TRAMPS

An Ordinance to That Effect Passed on Monday Evening—It Will be a Blessing to Bellefonte.

Council convened in regular session on Monday evening, with Members Lowery, Shaffer, Brackbill, Keller, Valentine, Williams, Gerberick and President Brockerhoff in attendance. The session lasted just two hours and an half and was one of the longest ever held.

The first business of the evening was the reading of the minutes of the previous session by Clerk Mitchell. Upon motion they were adopted as read.

Dr. M. A. Kirk appeared and asked that improvements be made on South Thomas street, and also that a crossing be put down on High street where Thomas street intersects.

A petition from the property owners and renters on Reynolds avenue was then read. It asked Council for a grade on the avenue and was signed by a long list of citizens.

A communication from the Fidelity and Casuality Company of New York was then read. It contained the report of the boiler inspector who had examined the boilers at the Water Works, in connection with the boiler insurance, and gave instruction as to what pressure per square inch the boilers could be run.

The Street Committee then reported considerable stone quarried, broken and distributed on the streets needing repairs. The Committee complained of the manner in which the Steam Heating company refilled ditches on the streets after repairing the pipes, stating that the borough had to finish up the repairs, although it was the place of the Steam Heating company to do so. They also complained of the dangerous condition of many boardwalks in the borough and asked Council to authorize them to take an engineer along to make necessary grades on streets and gutters. In regard to the trouble on East Howard street, caused by water, the Committee reported that they, with the Borough Engineer and Borough Solicitor, had investigated the matter. The Solicitor gave it as his opinion that the Borough was not liable for damage done by surface waters coming from private property and flowing onto private property. It was decided to notify the complaintants upon the decision of the Council. The Committee reported that they had suspended the Street Commissioner for neglect of duty, and that they, themselves, would look after the repairing of the streets until the next meeting of Council.

The Water Committee reported that Mr. Deitrick asked that the water pipe on East Logan street be extended sixty feet, to where he is building a double house. The Committee recommended that the old three-inch water main on Bishop, from Allegheny to Ridge street, be taken up and replaced with a six-inch main. They also suggested that the three-inch pipe be laid along Spring street between Bishop and High. They stated that they had about 500 feet of six-inch pipe and it would only take 300 feet more to make up the distance from Bishop to Ridge streets. The Committee reported that they found difficulty in making assessments in two cases on water motors. The Watchman office and Zeller & Son refused to sign the contracts, as they claimed they were exhorbitant. The Committee recommended that in the future all wooden stopcock boxes be replaced with iron boxes, as in their opinion, it would be the cheapest in the end. They reported that the pumps at the Water Works were going fourteen hours per day. The Water Works building, they said, was in a very bad condition, especially the roof, which leaked at every rain. In the matter of street sprinkling they decided that it was not in the power of Council to say who should sprinkle the streets, as that right rested with the property owners and renters. The only question for them to decide was whether or not those people who have their streets sprinkled should be compelled to pay more water tax. What they will do in this matter is as yet unknown.

The Fire and Police Committee reported in the matter of the request from the Logan Steam Fire Company for two nozzles. The Committee recommended that instead of purchasing two nozzles for the Logans that they purchase one each for both the Logan and Undine Companies. In obeyance with instructions to confer with the Burgess in regard to the tramp quession, the Committee, through the Solicitor, presented an ordinance to punish all offenders of the peace, including tramps and vagrants, and confine them in the lock-up until they could have a hearing before the Burgess, and if they were then unable to pay their fine, to have them work it out on the streets under the charge of the Street Commissioner—in other words, wear a ball and chain while at work.

* * * * *

The request of Dr. M. A. Kirk was referred by the President to the Street Committee for investigation, and instructions to report at the next meeting.

The petition for a grade on Reynolds avenue was also referred to the Street Committee for investigation and to report the result at the next meeting.

The boardwalk question was referred to the Street Committee with power to act.

It was moved and seconded that the Water Committee be empowered to extend the water pipe along East Logan street a distance of sixty feet.

The Water Committee was also empowered to purchase 300 feet of six-inch pipe to use in connection with the 500 feet on hand, the whole to be laid along Bishop street between Allegheny and Ridge streets. The question of laying the three-inch pipe on Spring, between Bishop and High streets, was referred to the Water Committee.

In regard to the water motor difficulty it was decided to instruct the Watchman office and Zeller & Son that they must sign the contracts as they are, or the water would be shut off.

In the matter of purchasing iron stopcock boxes, it was referred to the Water Committee for investigation as to cost of boxes, etc., and to report at next meeting.

As to purchasing nozzles for the fire companies, the Fire and Police Committee was instructed that if, after investigation, they were satisfied with the ball nozzle to purchase one each for both Logan and Undine Fire Companies.

As to the ball and chain ordinance, it was moved and seconded that the ordinance be ordained and enacted.

On motion that orders be drawn for the following bills, Council adjourned.

Corbett Was Arrested.

St. Louis, April 8.—Chief of Police Harrigan last night ordered Pugilist J. J. Corbett to omit the boxing feature of his show and the request was complied with To day Corbett visited police headquarters and endeavored to induce Chief Harrigan to recind the order, but the latter was obdurate.

At the matinee this afternoon Corbett sparred with Conley, the Ithaca giant, and both were arrested. Later they were released on bond and the matter will be settled in the police court to-morrow.

Case Argued—No Decision.

Harrisburg, April 8.—The quo warranto cases against seventeen justices of the peace in Shenandoah and Mahanoy City were argued before Judge McPherson today. Counsel for the commonwealth contended that each town is entitled to but two justices, instead of two for each ward. The pefendants were represented by several able lawyers who made a strong fight for them. Decision was reserved.

—We are glad to announce that Charles McClure is recovering from the result of his second operation and is now getting along very nicely. This will be good news to his many friends who were greatly worried over his condition.

WITH DYNAMITE AND FIRE

School House No. 5 in Curtin Township Completely Destroyed.

SEVERAL ARRESTS MAY FOLLOW

A Faction Fight Results Disastriously—Two Attempts Were Made to Fire the Building Before The Fiends Accomplished Their Purpose.

Some time on Monday night School House No. 5, in Curtin township, was set on fire and then blown up by dynamite, completely demolishing it.

It was the result of an old feud. Who the parties are who wreaked destruction on the School House is unknown, but the directors have strong suspicions and important arrests may follow. At present the excitement in that community is a fever pitch and it would not be at all surprising if further trouble should result.

It seems that about two years ago David McCloskey, Jr., and his son-in-law, Jeffery Walker, brought suit against the School Board of the Curtin District, in the courts of Centre county, to compel the directors to afford educational facilities for their respective families, consisting in all of about nine children of school age. Judge Furst appointed Hon. John A. Woodward an inspector to take testimony in the case and render his report. The parties met at an appointed time and were ably represented by attorneys. The testimony taken showed that McCloskey and Walker lived about five miles from the nearest school house and about two and an half miles from the settlement on the top of the Allegheny mountains. It was also shown by the testimony that the school directors had for several terms employed a teacher and held a school in one of the complainants' houses, but for some reason or other had stopped off one term after the suit had been brought.

The inspector rendered his report and thereupon the Court decreed that proper school facilities should be offered the complainants' children. The school directors then sent a teacher to their homes and conducted a school for a six-months' term. This was during the school year of 1894-5.

Last summer the School Board concluded to build a school house about half way between the settlement and the McCloskey and Walker homes, so that other families than those mentioned could attend. In this movement the Directors were endorsed by more than two-thirds of the citizens of the District but opposed by McCloskey and Walker and their friends. The contest waxed strong and bitter. The school house was built in the centre of the District and was constructed of stone, with a steel roof. It was furnished with improved school furniture and made a splendid school house all through. The school term opened in regular form with Clyde Oyler as teacher. The trouble was, however, not over, and the only scholars who attended were the children of John Singer and John Wentzel. On the surface everything was apparently moving along smoothly until about two months ago, when an attempt was made to burn the new school house. The door was broken in, the stove upset and blazing coals thrown upon the floor. The attempt of the incendiaries was, however, unsuccessful, and beyond burning a few holes in the floor the building was not damaged. The school house was repaired and again opened up for school.

On Monday night some unknown parties put a charge of dynamite in one end the building and also applied a torch to the wood work. The dynamite exploded with terrible force, completely demolishing the building. What wasn't destroyed by the explosion was eaten up by the flames which were aided largely by the application of coal oil and other inflamable material.

In about six days the school term would have been ended so that everything tends to prove that it was a case of spite work. It is thought the school Board has sufficient evidence to bring the guilty parties to justice.

The Price of Steel Billits.

Pittsburg, April 7.—It was reliably stated to-day that the following prices for steel billits in the Pittsburg district have been definitely agreed upon by the new combination: Soft steel billits, four inch and upwards, $20.25; sheet bars, $22.25; tin plate bars, washed and cut, $22.75, all delivered at buyers' mill. This is an advance of from $3 to $3.25 per ton on billets since the recent upward movement commenced.

A Bellefonte Democratic paper says: "Gov. Hastings is working for Quay under the leadership of Al. Dale." If this be true then indeed will the "Lion and lamb lie down together and a little child shall lead them."

The Tea was Poisoned.

Harrisburg, April 8.—The annlysis of the contents of the stomach of J. W. S. Hill, who died suddenly at Steelton, March 27, shows that he was poisoned from drinking tea in which there was arsenic. The district attorney will begin an investigation at once. The Hill household consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Mobley, Mrs. Feregson, a widowed daughter of the deceased; Alice Jones, the foster daughter, and Miss Maud Wilson, a school teacher. The family has not the least idea who put the deadly drug in the tea. Within the past year Mr. Hill, has had several hogs and three horses die from the effect of poison. It is evident that there has been some secret enemy at work.

Have Sent for Kansas Quail.

The Sunbury Item says that about twenty sportsmen of that place have sent an order to Kansas for eleven dozen pairs of quail, which are expected there about the middle of this week. The birds will be liberated as various points and will be protected as far as possible until they have a chance to hatch. Native quail are very scarce and an effort is being made by the sportsmen in the various towns to stock the county with the Kansas bird which is hardy and can stand the cold winters. Milton, Watsontown and Shamokin, have received western birds and other towns are contemplating sending orders for a stock. If pot hunters can be kept away from the quail for a few years there will soon be an abundance in the county as they multiply rapidly.

AN OLD SOLDIER PARALYZED

IT WAS THE RESULT OF HIS ARMY EXPERIENCE.

BOARD OF MEDICAL EXAMINERS PRONOUNCED HIM HOPELESS.

An Account of the Case in Detail, in Which His Recovery is Announced by the "Courier" of His Native Town.

Another Soldier's Experience as a Result of His Confinement in Andersonville Prison.

From the Courier, Seneca Falls, N. Y.

Milton Weaver, who lives on Throop Street, Seneca Falls, N. Y., was a soldier in the late war, serving in the Third Wisconsin Cavalry. In 1862, while being transported from Janesville to Chicago, the train was wrecked by a broken axle, which threw the cars down an embankment.

With many others, Mr. Weaver assisted in rescuing his less fortunate companions, and while lifting the wreckage from the wounded men, he received an injury to his spine that rendered his lower limbs useless, beside rupturing himself. He was taken to St. Louis, where he received the best medical treatment, but without getting any relief. He was then taken to Fort Leavenworth, but with no better success. While at the latter place he was examined by the Board of Medical Examiners, who pronounced his case a hopeless one, telling him that although he might live for years, he would always be helpless.

Since then he has spent thousands of dollars, but has never been able to get any relief, and he felt that he would always be compelled to drag himself about with the aid of crutches. Four years ago he was taken worse, was not able to get about even with the aid of crutches. It was then that hope died, for the paralysis had attacked his hitherto good right arm as well and left him indeed helpless, being scarcely able to feed himself and wholly dependent on others.

He remained in this condition until a little more than a year ago, when he was induced by hearing of a former friend whose case was similar to his own, who had been to New York for treatment, but who had been told by the doctors there that there was no help for him, to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. This friend, upon his return home had his attention called to an advertisement of Dr. Williams' Medicine Co.'s Pink Pills, was induced to try them, with the result that he was cured. Mr. Weaver had tried so many different medicines that he felt it would be a waste of money, but as there is always hope while there is life, determined to give "Pink Pills" a trial. He did so, and was astonished to find before he had taken one box that he was better. This was in June, 1894, that he commenced taking them. He was still skeptical and carefully watched himself, thinking that the relief would only be temporary. He continued to improve, however, and after taking four boxes stopped for a time. The improvement was apparently permanent and he again commenced taking them, and before another box was gone he was able to walk and also to do light work, which he had never hoped to do again. He has taken altogether only ten boxes.

Mr. Weaver was born in Seneca Falls, where with the exception of a few years spent in the West, he has always lived, and his condition and marvelous cure is well known and can be easily verified.

George B. Davis, of the drug firm of Davis & Seaman, says that the cure of Mr. Weaver was nothing less than a miracle, and that it has resulted in largely increased sales of "Pink Pills."

Thirty Years Hard Luck.

AN OLD SOLDIER'S TALE AND ITS SEQUEL.

Good Fortune Comes to a Michigan Veteran After Years of Suffering.

From the Journal, Detroit, Mich.

Many a fine constitution has been completely shattered from the effects of exposure and want of care during the late war, and many a man has carried through life a burden of disease and suffering which in many cases is incurable, but now and then a rare exception occurs, and some old soldier is made grateful and happy in the possession of a remedy which takes away the old trouble and makes him feel young again.

Mr. Bennet M. Metler, of Maybee, Mich., is a man in the prime of life, of fine physique and of evident education and refinement. He was a member of Company I, 14th Pennsylvania Cavalry, and served three years in the late war.

For nine months he was confined in Andersonville Prison, sleeping out in the open air without covering and very little food until so reduced that his mind was nearly a blank, he was dreadfully crippled with rheumatism and with heart failure to add to his comfort.

For thirty years this rheumatism and heart difficulty clung around him, not continually but coming and going at short intervals.

About nine months ago he read of a wonderful cure, of some gentleman in Canada, of rheumatism by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They were also recommended to him by a friend and he determined to try them.

Almost immediately he began to improve. He continued taking them until he had used four boxes. It has been over six months since he has had any symptom of either rheumatism or heart trouble and he believes his cure is due entirely to the wonderful remedy as he took no other at the same time.

"You can for me give them a good recommendation," said Mr. Metler, "and I hope some of my old comrades will see the story and will try them, for I know they will be benefited."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain, in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after effect of la grippe, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexions, all forms of weakness either in male or female. Pink Pills are sold by all dealers or will be sent post paid on receipt of price, 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 (they are never sold in bulk or by the 100), by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Was 106 Years Old.

Moundsville, W. Va., April 5.—Mrs. Elizabeth Leonard, probably the oldest resident of West Virginia, died at the home of Lee Hammond on Jefferson avenue, Moundsville, at 12.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Deceased was 106 years of age and for one so old enjoyed remarkably good health. She was born in Switzerland and at the age of 13 years came to this country and lived for many years in Philadelphia, Pa. She was the mother of nine children and outlived all of them and also her husband. She has been living in Moundsville for several past and up to a week or so ago enjoyed as good health as any person. Finally her appetite failed her and yesterday morning she went to sleep at 10 o'clock and never awoke. Her death was painless and was a surprise to her friends. Mrs. Leonard smoked a pipe for several years past and could get around as well as most any ordinary person younger than herself. Her only surviving relatives are several great-great-grandchildren, who live in Allegheny, Pa., and Steubenville, O.

"Out of Order."

At a club meeting where the members, though old men, wrangled like so many school boys this scene occurred, and the Louisville Commercial reports it:

A feeble old man whose yellow complexion indicated liver troubles offered a resolution. His opponent got up and excitedly exclaimed:

"Mr. Chairman, Mr. Chairman, the gentleman is out of order and therefore cannot offer the resolution."

The old man replied in an equally excited manner: "Mr. Chairman, the gentleman is right. I am out of order. The doctor told me this morning that my liver was all out of order. But, Mr. Chairman, I should like to see the clause in the constitution which says that if a man is sick he cannot present a resolution."

The old fellow is still wondering why his hearers laughed.

can't see it all

Cod-liver oil is something more than a fat. Its peculiar action depends on a number of substances, among which might be mentioned iodine and phosphorus. There can be no substitute for cod-liver oil, because there is no other oil known which has in natural combination with it such a large number of valuable medicinal agents.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-liver Oil, with the hypophosphites contains the whole oil, with its natural properties, and in a thoroughly emulsified or digested condition. The hypophosphites increase the appetite and impart strength to the nervous system. This combination has marked curative properties in a number of diseases of the skin and scalp, to which scrofulous persons are peculiarly liable. Such diseases as chronic eczema, ringworm, and other skin affections, are often quickly cured by the constitutional effects following the use of Scott's Emulsion.

Spaniard Make a Small Haul.

Philadelphia, April 2.—A private cablegram from Puerto Cortez to-day would seem to show that the Spaniards did not make as big a haul as reported, if the Honduras authorities have really held the steamship Bermuda. The cablegram says that but ninety cases of arms and amunition were found aboard the steamer, and that the greater part of her cargo and General Calixto Garcia and the Cubans who went on the vessel were landed on the coast of the province of Pinar Del Rio, Cuba. It is said that a number of the men who are alleged to have been landed from the Bermuda were expert artillery men, and that they gained their experience as members of battery A, Pennsylvania National Guards The story goes that twenty thoroughly, competent men were with the expedition and that they were under command of Sergeant W. H. Cox, of section 3, battery A, who is considered one of the best artillery instructors and most efficient handler of batteries in this part of the country.

The services of these men were, it is asserted, secured by the Cubans for the purpose of organizing their own men into effective battalions and training them in the use of guns procured from the United States. Battery A has more than a local reputation. Its proud boast is that every man in the company is the peer of any American artillerist, and their services, when offered, were gladly accepted by the local managers of the insurgents' interests.

Captain Maurice A. Stafford, who is in command of battery A, was asked if members of the National Guard had a right to take up arms against Spain. He said: "About all the men in my command have been asking permission to go to Cuba, and I have told them to go if they wanted to. I have at the same time notified the company that any man so going would be considered as dropped from the rolls. Sergeant Cox, it is understood went in charge of other men from the battery, on the Bermuda. That is to say, I understand that they went, but I do not want to be considered as having official knowledge of it.

"A committee from the Cuban junta requested our services and the matter was left entirely to the individual decision of the men. Everybody wanted to go at once. A number of young men who were expert gunners, but who had been discharged because their hilariousness on drill nights interfered with discipline, applied to me for recommendation to the junta, and I granted it. Whether they have gone or not I don't know. Probably they have. I can only say officially that a number of my men have been missing from roll call and are not expected to return soon.

The Law for Bankruptcy.

Washington, April 5.—The new bankruptcy bill which will be reported to the House Judiciary committee, now engaged in completing the measure, has already been stripped of the severe features of the old Torrey bill. It will be a compromise between those who demand a law for voluntary bankruptcy only and those who demand the involuntary feature.

A radical change from the old law is made in this: The title to the property of the bankrupt does not pass from him until actual adjudication. Under the law of 1887 the property passed on the filing of a petition in voluntary bankruptcy.

"Insolvent" means a condition wherein a debtor's property at a fair valuation is insufficient for the payment of his debts.

A Receiver Appointed.

Pittsburg, April 5.—The Union Trust company has been appointed receiver of the firm of Bovard, Lipphart & Co., dealers in carpets. James H. Irons, the "company" in the firm, claims that misrepresentations were made to induce him to become a member of the firm; that a note for $3,000 had been protested; accounts payable to the amount of $18,000 are about due and unprovided for; liabilities of $63,000 will become due in the next four months; that the partnership is insolvent; little cash on hand and no large amount likely soon to be received.

Anti-Saloon Crusade.

Mercer, Pa., April 2.—The anti-saloon enthusiasts met here to-day. A county organization was effected by making Rev. Phillips of Stonboro, county superintendent. Branches will be formed in all the towns of the county. J. Howard Russel, state superintendent of Ohio, gave an address upon the moyement in his state. It was a rather strange coincident that there was only one representative from a town that has a saloon. Five hundred dollars was raised for sustaining the cause.

Ives an Easy Winner.

New York, April 2.—Frank Ives and Albert Garnier were the contestants tonight in the fourth game of the billiard tournament. Ives won in the twelfth inning, the final score being, Ives 600, Garnier 103. The highest runs made were: Ives 164, Garnier 31; and the averages: Ives 50, Garnier 9 4-11.

An Oft-Told Tale.

Lebanon, Pa., April 3—"Well here it goes boys' said 19-year-old Thomas Eck, as he placed what he thought was an empty revolver to his head and pulled the trigger. Death was almost instantaneous His brother thought he had just removed the cartridges.

Polite Policeman.

The Boston Herald tells of a brave policeman who is especially attentive to the wants of little women who want to cross the streets. It is seldon that kindness makes an error, but in this case the policeman's good natured helpfulness was mistaken.

The pleasant weather had brought out a crowd of shoppers, and among them was a pretty little woman who seemed to be in terror of moving across the street.

She stood on the corner and gazed at the passing throng, unmindful of the many admiring glances cast at her. A car passed the crossing, and was closely followed by another. Then she ran into the street, and the policeman saw her just as she left the sidewalk.

The second car was coming along under right of way, when the officer raised his hand and seized the little woman by the arm. She was so slight that he almost lifted her out of the way of the car and dashed in front of a team on the other side, landing her safely on the opposite sidewalk.

"There, you're all right," he said as she stepped up on the walk and turned to face him.

She shook out her skirts, staightened her hat, and smiled sweetly at him as she replied:

"Yes, I'm all right, but I ran out to take that first car. I didn't want to come over here. Now, will you please escort me across?"

Too Clever for Them.

A certain captain included among his cargo a couple of gallon jars of fine brandy. Incidently he also included a remarkably smart and intelligent cabin boy. The worthy skipper had a deep rooted aversion to the inconvenient curiosity of the revenue officers. In short, he desired to land his brandy without their aid.

Upon bearing his vessel alongside the quay a plank was pushed on to the jetty, and as soon as the officer came within a few yards the cabin boy, carrying the jars, stepped ashore and was immediately accosted by the custom officer.

"Well, my lad, what have you got there?"

"Can't tell you, sir."

"But you must."

"Captain said I wasen't to, sir."

"Oh, but I'm a custom house officer, my boy, and if you don't tell me what you have there I shall call that constable yonder and have you arrested."

"Well sir captain'll kill me if he knows. He said I was to take the jars to Mr. ——" (mentioning the officer's name), "12 B— street, with his compliments."

"Oh yes! I see. It's all right. I'm Mr. ——. Here's a shilling for your honesty and see go out this way."

The officer is still waiting for that boy and brandy and will have to wait.—Strand Magazine.

Easter the World Over.

Easter Sunday occure on the same day the world over. A statement published that Easter Sunday occurred this year a week earlier in San Fraucisco than else where in the world, is declared by scientists to be ridiculous, based perhaps upon the erroneous supposition that the astronomical full moon had anything to do with fixing the great church festival. If that assumption had been in any way warranted Sunday last would have been Easter throughout the country west of Pittsburg. The date of Easter depends on the calendar moon and not on the true astronomical moon, which in general occurs one or two days earlier, and this fact has led to many misunderstandings in the past.

According to the regulations of the Council of Nice, Easter must follow the fourteenth day of the Paschal moon, the Paschal moon being that of which the fourteenth day falls on or next follows the day of vernal equinox. Easter is fixed wholly by the ecclesiatical calendar and neither by the lunar nor the solar year as such. In 1896 it occurs on April 5th.

Girls Pulled Hair.

Cambridge, Mass., April 2.—Fourteen young women, representing the best families in Cambridge and New Haven, had a hair-pulling contest under the guise of a basket ball game at Dr. Sargent's gymnasium, Church street, Cambridge, this afternoon. The trouble arose from a disagreement over the rules, and the big audience was astonished to see the proficiency in boxing developed by the players.

The young women agreed to less rough play, but each side observed its own rules and many of the girls lost their tempers. The school of Dr. Anderson, director of the Yale gymnasium, was defeated by Dr. Sargent's school by 21 to 2.

A Plant Levied On.

Hazleton, Pa., April 2.—Sheriff Millton Setzel, of Carbon county, to-day levied upon the plant of the Carbon County Improvement company at Weissport, on two executions, one of which was the largest ever issued from the prothonotary's office of Carbon county. One of the executions was in favor of Charles Wolters, of Philadelphia, the president of the company, for $41,817, and the other in favor of Frederick Horlacher, of Slatington, its superintendent and manager.

We're Thankful It's No Worse.

A medical journal seriously states that when clean milk is drawn from the cow by a clean method, cooled rapidly, and delivered within twelve hours, it only contains 100,000 bacteria to the cubic centimeter compared with millions under other circumstances. This reminds us of a good woman, who was once told that the authorities of her church had, in revising the creed, decided to lower the sentence of the condemned from eternity to a period of only 1,000,000 years in hell. "Bless my soul how thankful we all should be."

MUST USE FOUR INCH TIRES.

Opinion from the Attroney General That Will Interest Farmess

Harrisburg April 2.—Attorney General McCormick has given the Department of Agriculture an opinion on the act passed by the last Legislature to encourage the use of wide tires upon wagons on the public highways. The opinion is in answer to a question from Secretary Edge as to whether a farmer residing near a large city, who has placed wide tires upon all his farm wagons exceptithe covered wagon which he uses for hauling market products to the city market, can claim the reduction of the road tax under the law so long as his own wagon has narrow tires.

The attorney general says the evident purpose of this legislation was to prevent as far as possible the use of narrow tires and wagons upon which heavy loads were carried and to encourage the use of wide tires to that end, that the roads should be injured as little as possible. He is of the opinion, however, that a farmer who uses a draft wagon carrying 2,000 pounds or more, has them equipped with four-inch tires and usee no wagon with a narrower tire for the purpose of carrying 2,000 pounds or more, brings himself within the provisions of this act and is entitled to the rebate of one-fourth of the assessed highway tax.

If a farmer had a covered wagon which he uses for hauling market products to the city markets, presumably with a tire narrower than four inches, loads that wagon with 2,000 pounds more, General McCormick holds, he is not entitled to the rebate of the tax, even although all his wagons are equipped with the tires of the required widths. The four-inch tire must be used on all wagons for the person claiming the rebate they have carried 2,000 pounds or more.

Clayton, Nevada Co., Ark., Jan. 28, 1895.

Eureka Chemical & Mfg., Co., La Crosse Wis.—Gentlemen: For forty years I used tobacco in all its forms. For twenty-five years of that time I was a great sufferer from general debility and heart disease. For fifteen years I tried to quit, but couldn't. I took various remedies, among others "No-To-Bac," "The Indian Tobacco Antidote," "Double Chloride of Gold," etc., etc., but none of them did me the least bit of good. Finally, however, I purchased a box of your "Baco-Curo" and it has entirely cured me of the habit in all its forms, and I have increased thirty pounds in weight and am relieved from all the numerous aches and pains of the body and mind. I could write a quire of paper upon my changed feelings and condition.

Trade Review.

New York, April 3.—R. G. Dun & Co. will say to-morrow in their weekly review of trade: The regular quarterly statement of failures shows 4,031, with liabilities of $57,425,135, against 3,802 last year, with liabilities of $47,313,683.

The improvement expected with spring weather begins, though in some branches of business scarcely visible. As consumers make spring purchases they must lessen stock and compel buying. The stocks taken in advance of consumers' demands last summer have been distributed far more slowly than was expected, but months of waiting have helped to lessen the load which it is hoped spring buying will clear away. The backward season has been a hindrance, and the number of hands unemployed in important industries, and the low prices of farm products. Apprehensions of foreign or financial difficulties have hindered, but are now scarcely felt. Gold exports are rumored, but at this season are so far natural that they have no such power to cause alarm as they had in winter. The gigantic steel combination is expected to have a great influence in sustaining markets and stimulating confidence, and though such operations often miss the success they seek, they rarely fail to kindle speculative buying for a time. The sudden advance of $2 per ton in billets a week ago has raised Bessemer pigs $1 at Pittsburg, and the demands for structural forms increase in expectation that prices will rise. Nail associations have given notice of another advance of 15 cents at the end of this month. Bars have been greatly demoralized, but some makers now hope to re-establish the combination, as steel bars will become dearer. But now one foundry is slightly lower at Philadelphia and the general demand for finished products does not yet improve. The steel concerns propose to restrict production by allotment, those producing more than their share paying $2 per ton to those who produce less. Orders for lake copper are solicited at $10.-50, and lead is weak at $3.10. Less encouragement appears in the boot and shoe trade. The woolen manufacture does not gain in orders and a large part of the machinery is stopped. Prices of wool have fallen 7½ per cent. Cotton mills still pile up good in advance of orders, as reductions in prices have failed as yet to stimulate buying. Speculation in products has been tame. Cotton continues to come forward so largely that former predictions of 6,500,000 bales are remembered with derision, and the outlook for the next crop continues good. Wheat has slightly advanced, and if later reports of injury from extensive frosts and storms prove correct, will advance more, though western receipts continue nearly 50 per cent. larger than last year. Corn exports are large and receipts also heavy, but pork has declined 75 cents per barrel. Speculation in stocks has not been active, though railroads average nearly $1 per share higher than last week, while transactions in trust stocks have scarcely gained anything. Railroad tonnage in March has been a shade larger than in 1893, but reported earnings of railroads are 3.7 per cent. larger than last year, but 10.4 per cent. smaller than in 1893.

Others Fail, Hood's Cures.

"My little boy Arthur, was a healthy child, until he was about four years old. At that time he was taken with what first appeared to be a cold. His tonsils became swollen and his throat was all cancer he had fever and headache. The doctor cured him of these troubles but they returned. He was also afflicted last April with a painful abscess in the head. We saw Hood's Sarsaparilla advertised and he has taken about two bottles, and is now a healthy child, and has not missed a day at school all this Winter."

Mrs. E. N. Griffin, Knoxville, Pa.

What It Cost Him to Beat an Editor.

The editor of the Independence, Kan., Star sued a delinquent subscriber for $11. The delinquent claimed he never subscribed for the paper, and did not propose to pay for it. The judge instructed the jury that if the evidence disclosed the fact that the delinquent had taken the paper from the office, or caused it to be taken, they should find for the plaintiff. It cost the man nearly $100 to settle what $11 would have paid. It pays to be honest even with a printer.

Rheumatism is caused by lactic acid in the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla neutralizes this acid and cures rheumatism.

Easter Exercises at the High School.

Thursday was a day long to be remembered by the students of the Bellefonte High School. What made the occasion such a memorable one was the fact that it was the day when the members of the Senior class delivered their Easter Orations.

The exercises were announced to commence at 2 p. m., but long before that time the parents and friends of the students had arrived and soon every available inch of space was occupied. Chairs had to be secured to accommodate the people and even then there were some who had to stand. But those who were unable to obtain seats were perfectly willing to stand, and although it was perhaps not quite as pleasant as sitting, yet they were well repaid for their time and any inconvenience they might have encountered.

The scene within the walls of the spacious school room was an animated one. The many pretty dresses and smiling faces made a picture never to be forgotten. The parents of those who were to take part were there to lend encouragement by their presence; and as the participants patiently awaited their turn there was, on the face of each one, a look which clearly said that they were determined to do their best; and they did it, too. Year after year have High School classes delivered their Easter Orations, but we venture to say that the Class of '96, on Thursday, surpassed the mark made by any of its predecessors. The program was an unusually interesting one and each selection received a well merited attention from the auditors. The participants and their subjects were as follows:

Singing—"Come, Roam By the Woodlands."

Invocation—Rev. J. W. Rue.

Singing—"Easter Bells."

Oration—"The Idea of a Popular Education," Miss Freda Baum.

Oration—"Delays are Dangerous," Miss Kate Benner.

Oration—"True Honors," Mr. Thomas Hamilton.

Singing—"As We've Sown, So Shall We Reap."

Oration—"Why Men are Remembered," Miss Mabel Fauble.

Oration—"Neglected Works," Miss Mary Lambert.

Oration—"Economy of Organization," James Wright.

Singing—"Come Where the Wild Flowers Bloom."

Oration—"Value of Mental Discipline," Myrtle Longacre.

Oration—"Thought Reduces Labor," Bessie Orris.

Oration—"The Age and The Man," Willis Knox.

Singing—"Harvest Home."

Oration—"Modern Chivalry," Blanche Underwood.

Oration—"Cuba and the United States," Willis Ishler.

Singing—Quartette of Messrs. Rutt, Mattern, Knox and Wright.

Address by Rev. Rue, and Messrs. Underwood, Etters, Gray Hastings and Fred Blair.

Mr. D. F. Fortney then presented two very valuable books to the High School as the gift of Gov. D H. Hastings. The books were on the "History of Pennsylvania" and will make a splendid addition to the High School Library.

With the benediction by Rev. J. W. Rue, the exercises were concluded.

Poor Indeed!

There are degrees and kinds of poverty, just as there are differences of opinion among those who compute and measure poverty and riches by different standards. Some men deem themselves poor because they are less rich than others, again there are comparatively poor people who are satisfied with a competence. There is a kind of poverty for which no amount of wealth can compensate, a poverty of bodily stamina, evinced by nervousness and a derangement of the functions of digestion, bilious secretion and the bowels. To restore vigor upon a permanent basis there is one remedy that fully covers the requirements, "fills the bill," and that is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. By restoring digestion, giving a healthful impulse to the action of the bowels and liver and tranquillizing the nerves, it fulfills the condition necessary to a resumption of strength by the system. It also overcomes malaria and rheumatism.

Confessed to Murdering his Wife.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., April 2—George Windisch, the Pittston wife-murderer, has made a full confession of his crime to Rev. G. A. Struntz of the Lutheran church. He said he murdered his wife after she attacked him with a chisel. He gave the minister all his money to be divided among his children. He says he did not want his case appealed to the supreme court, as it would cost too much money. He gave the warden of the jail $45 to buy him a coffin.

—At a meetiug of the School Board on Saturday evening it was decided to allow the W. C. T. U. to build the Tabernacle on the school house commons.

—We are under many obligations to Misses Barett and Johnson at the Telephone Exchange for a handsome floral Easter gift on Saturday. It was a complete suprise but nevertheless a very enjoyable one.

A Dying Negro Holds His Murderer Until the Police Arrive.

New York, April 5.—Two negro crooks fought in a Seventh avenue saloon yesterday over their dogs. One killed the other and the victim, with a knife in his throat, laid hold of his slayer and dragged him down with him, hissing in his ear with his dying breath: "If I die, I will hold you till the 'cop' comes."

He kept his word. The policeman who was called in by the shouts of the saloon loungers, found the living negro almost frightened out of his wits, in the grasp of his victim and drenched with his blood. So desperate was the grip that they had to be dragged apart by main strength. The murdered man was Peter Barett, and his slayer, Thomas Cooper. The prisoner was held for the coroner's inquest.

A Handsome Engine.

Last week Joseph Wise went to Philadelphia and brought home for the Valentine Iron Company engine No. 1 which had been sent to the Baldwin Repair Shops about four months ago. Although the engine is to be used for hauling cinder ect,. it is handsome enough to pull the president's train around the world and be a credit to the Nation. A visit to the furnace on Sunday afternoon found Mr. Wise putting on the finishing touches to enable the iron horse to start out on duty this week. It is indeed one of the finest engines we have ever seen and reflects much credit not only upon the Furnace Company but also on Wr. Wise upon whose designs the massive structure was built.

In a Peculiar Place.

Butler, Pa., April 5.—An unusual scene was enacted in the court room on Thursday. It came to the ear of the court that the basement was being used as a speak-easy, so to speak, and he directed the persons engaged in it to be brought before him. The first one captured was Elmer Cousins, who was much the worse for too frequent visits to the jug he had concealed in the cellar. In answer to questions from the court he admitted that he had obtained a gallon of whisky and that Charley Reed had been drinking with him, and after imparting some good advice, Judge Greer sent him to jail for twenty-four hours.

Branch Will be Built.

Grennville, Pa., April 3.—Officials of the Pitsburg & Lake Erie Railroad Company are now confident that the Butler-Pittsburg extension will be made at an early date. The financial part of the program was arranged in New York Saturday, the sum of $4,000,000 being guaranteed by a syndicate. The immense ore and coal carrying contracts recently made with the Carnegie interests will require nearly double the present number of trainmen and shop employes, nearly all of whom will live in Greenville. One of three routes from Butler to Pittsburg is under consideration, and the final surveys will be made at once.

Claim to Have Good Evidence.

Irwin, Pa., April 3.—The officers who have been quietly at work getting evidence against Jacob Mayer, who shot his wife at a dance near here a couple of months ago, now claim to have sufficient evidence to convict him of murder. At the time of the shooting Mayer was given a hearing and released on the plea of accidental shooting, but was afterwards rearrested at the instant of a brother of the the dead woman, and is now in jail awaiting trial.

And Obliging Officer.

As to the Theatre Hat

Columbus, O., April 3.—The senate today passed the Fosdick anti-theatre hat bill, and it is now a law. There were but two votes against it.

Danger in Rope Jumping.

Timid mothers who fully realize the dangers of the foot ball field for their sons rarely appreciate the perils of the apparently harmless jumping rope for their daughters. And yet the latter has its victims every year, and though they are not so numerous as those of foot ball it would probably be found, if complete statistics were available, that the mean total reaches a figure sufficiently startling. One of the first deaths of the season from this cause occurred in Brooklyn, N. Y., last week, where a little girl of nine years died from the effects of too prolonged indulgence in rope skipping. Jumping rope may or may not be good exercise for girls when taken in moderation, but it is very easy to overdo it, and when rapid and protracted it is a severe strain on children whose hearts are weak or who may be otherwise delicate.

Bull Fight on Bicycles.

The latest thing in Spanish bull fights is to put the matador on a bicyle instead of a horse. Carlos Rodriguez, a well-known cyclist, and Badila, the picador of the Quadrille deMazzantini, both entered the arena lately and mounted on cycles. Rodriguez soon ran away from the bull, but Badila, the picador, stood his ground and not being able to turn quickly enough was over taken and both rider and machine tossed high in the air by the infuriated animal. By a miracle the rider was not hurt, but the machine was wrecked beyond repair.

Pineola Cough Balsam.

Is excellent for all throat inflamations and for asthma. Consumptives will invariably derive benefit from its use, as it quickly abates the cough, renders expectoration easy, assisting nature in restoring wasted tissues. There is a large percentage of those who suppose their cases to be consumption who are only suffering from a chronic cold or deep seated cough, often aggravated by catarrh. For catarrh use Ely's Cream Balm. Both remedies are pleasant to use. Cream Balm, 50c. per bottle; Pineola Balsam 25c. at druggists. In quantities of $2.50 will deliver on receipt of amount.

OUR NEW YORK LETTER.

New York, April 4, 1896.

As indicated in our advices of last week, April opens with a better feeling in the Wall street markets. The currency sent into the country for the usual April settlements is returning; and as the banks now see nothing to prevent a steady and comparatively easy course of the money market until the fall crop movement sets in, there is more disposition to make time loans, and at rates satisfactory to the stock houses. A slight flurry has been caused by the close approach of the rates of foreign exchange to the point admitting of exports of gold; but that is a movement only natural to the season; and if it should cause some withdrawals of legal tenders from the banks to procure gold from the treasury; the present condition of the reserves and the influx of money from the interior may be trusted to prevent any appreciable scarcity of loanable funds. The discount market may quite possibly exhibit some appearances of closeness for some weeks or even months to come, for in certain industries, there is an overproduction and a carrying of large stocks of goods which induces caution towards paper coming from those specific sources. This however is by no means a general feature in relation to merchantile paper; it rather concerns industrial than mercantile credits; and this feeling among the banks is perhaps interpreted for much more than it really means, and for that reason, may be expected to soon abate. So long however as it continues, it will be a factor favoring a preference for loans on stock collaterals and will therefore tend to keep down the rate on "call" money. To this extent, the prospect as to the supply of money for stock exchange purposes is favorable, within the range of the next few months.

We cannot but repeat the opinion previously expressed in these advices, that the feeling at present prevailing at this centre is not a fair reflection of the tone of business in the country at large. For the moment, this city, as the chief centre of industrial capital, has certain adverse circumstances to contend against; and although those conditions may call for prudence and caution, yet there is no reason to anticipate really serious consequences from them, and they may be expected to work out their own remedy through enforcing a better adjustment between demand and supply in certain industrial staples. The sooner these exceptional conditions are viewed with a discriminating judgment, the better for all parties. It leads to needless distrust inferences against the whole business of the country are drawn from conditions which apply only in a restricted locality and to a few interests—though the interests may be important ones. Such misjudgments, however, cannot long prevail; and no serious mistake will be made in expecting an early recovery from the exaggerated pessimism which just now prevails to some extent in this city.

The unexpectedly outspoken protest of the Republican State conventions on the silver question has a most encouraging effect upon confidence among the investing classes. Instead of the evasions from party leaders that had been feared, there has been the plainest declaration for the maintenance of the gold standard as against attacks from the silver faction. This explicitness is all that could be desired, and it strikes the country as something far better than was hoped for. The importance of this attitude lies in the fact that it shows a great and positive progress in public opinion in favor of the sole gold standard and against any further commitments to silver. There can be no backsliding from the position thus taken; and in this very important respect the country finds assurance and safety. This assurance is immeasurably valuable, and cannot fail to have a most important effect upon confidence in every ramification of finance. It now seems a fair conclusion that a sound foundation stone has been laid in public opinion for the structure of our future currency system. This first great step being thus virtually won, we can afford to deliberate patiently and wisely in determining what shall be the remaining contributions towards the reconstruction of our monetary system upon a sound, broad, elastic and permanent basis. The house committee on currency and banking are working earnestly and intelligently towards maturing an acceptable measure of currency reform. The various measures before them are each directed towards methods which would afford a vast improvement upon existing arrangements; but the differences in detail may prevent an agreement during the present session, and both in Congress and out there are prejudices and misconceptions so stubborn that it may be the wisest course to allow a further period of public discussion for their removal. Indeed among those best acquainted with the present immature state of public opinion on the question, the feeling appears to be that the country is not yet ripe for a thoroughly regulated settlement.

Taking a broad outlook on the questions and the dislocations that have been so deeply unsettling confidence, we see on all sides the evidences of a steady and cautious approach towards a remedial readjustment. There is more intelligent comprehension of the situation, its causes and its remedies, among the people a large than existed but a few months ago. The country is not unreasonably impatient for a solution. It appreciates the complexity of the questions involved, and so long as it is satisfied that progress is being made on the right line, it would prefer careful deliberation to a hasty and incomplete readjustment. The point has been reached, however, at which a great revival of confidence is inevitable both at home and abroad; the principle of the gold basis has been irrevocably affirmed and all that remains to be done is the formulation of the details as to the minor forms of money. That satisfies Wall street for the present; and must soon show its results in a restoration of financial activities. HENRY CLEWS.

DON'T LOOK.

Very Dangerous but if Left to Itself is Death.

There are some diseases which do not arouse our sympathy. The disease is not deep—and therefore our sympathy is shallow. But we very often make a serious mistake—such as calling backache a light affliction. Backache means kidney trouble every time and if you don't drive it away it will never go of its own accord. But it does not continue simply as a backache. Soon this urine becomes affected, either to much of it, or too little, and in either case it is expelled only with pain—acute pain. Then comes the sediment stage, which means cutting sandy deposits and sometimes stones like kernels of corn. Then follows Diabetes or Bright's Disease. Don't you think a backache dangerous? We do but we must just add a few words, and they are, Doan's Kidney Pills cure every time, and all stages of Kidney disease, but it is always best to keep as far from the danger line as possible, and the cure is easier.

Mr. William Lavenburg is a miner, and is well known in Minersville, where he resides. This is how he speaks of his case. Said he:

"Seven months ago I received a severe strain, and my back became affected, causing great pain. All the long months I have suffered severely without being able to find relief. I kept getting worse. I knew the ailment was internal; it hurt me to stoop, and I could hardly straighten up again. I had severe headaches and a good deal of pain in the groin and lower portion of the abdomen. I was also bothered in passing urine. Upon hearing of the good qualities of Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a box and tried them. In three days time I felt better, and now I am perfectly well. Doan's Kidney pills is excellent medicine, and did just what is claimed for it, which is something only one remedy in a hundred will do. I swear by the pills now and recommend them whereever I can. I am entirely cured, and glad to know of such a medicine in case I should ever need it again."

The Wonders of Smelling.

James Mitchell, who died in or about 1833, in the country of Narin, in Scotland, and was born blind on Nov. 11, 1792, recognized, says the World of Wonders, different persons by smelling. The famous Mr. Boyle mentions a blind man at Utrecht who could distinguish different metals by the different odors, and Martials records the case of a person named Mamura who could tell by smelling whether copper was true Corinthian or not. Indian travelers have recorded that certain natives who habitually abstain from animal food have a sense of smelling that is so exquisitely delicate that they can tell from which well a vessel of water has been obtained. It has been related that by smell alone the negroes of the Antillies will detect the footsteps of a Frenchman from those of a negro. Marce Marci has left an account of a monk at Parague who could tell by smelling anything put to him who had last handled it. The guides who accompany travelers in the route from Babylon to Aleppo will tell by smelling the desert sand how near they are to the latter place.

Family wines that rival the world in excellence are from Speers Passaic N. J. Vineyards. The Claret, vintage 1881, the Burgundy and Port are very old superior wines. The Port is especially for invalids. The Climax Brandy is very superior.

Miss Flora (in a pair of stupendous sleeves)—"How do I look, Ned?" Ned (rapturously)—"You're simply unapproachable."—Boston Transcript.

A definition.—"What is a critic?" "He is a man who rips things to pieces without knowing how to put them together again."—Chicago Record.

Old Rip Van Winkle went up into the Catskill mountains to take a little nap of twenty years or so, and when he wakened, he found that the "cruel war was over," the monthly magazines had "fought it over" the second time and "blown up" all the officers that had participated in it. This much is history, and it is also an historical fact that, during the same length of time, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery had become the most celebrated, as it is the most effective, Liver, Blood and Lung Remedy of the age. In purifying the blood and in all manner of pimples, blotches, eruptions, and other skin and scalp diseases, scrofulous sores and swellings, and kindred ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery" manifests the most positive curative properties.

Every disorder that can be reached through the blood, yields to its purifying qualities. Besides, it builds up wholesome flesh and strength; not merely fat like filthy Cod liver oil and its nasty "emulsions" but solid flesh.

A scrofulous condition of the blood invites catarrh, bronchitis, and consumption. We're all exposed to the germs of consumption, grip and malaria—yet only the weak ones suffer. When you're weak, tired out, and debilitated, or when pimples and blotches appear—heed the warning in time. The "Golden Medical Discovery" sets all the organs into healthy action—especially the liver, and that's the point of entrance for these germs. Then if the blood be pure, they'll be thrown off. There's no risk.

CAUTION.—Accept no substitute for the "Golden Medical Discovery" that may be recommended to be "just as good." It may be better for the dealer, because of paying him a better profit, but he is not the one who needs help.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our regular correspondent.

WASHINGTON, APRIL 6th 1896.

The republican leaders in Congress are men of too much experience in such matters to allow themselves to become the tools of the democrats and to begin fighting each other, instead of the common enemy. They know that the little hope that the democrats allow themselves to indulge in of ever regaining control of this goverment again is based entireley upon their ability to stir up dissension among the supporters of the several candidates for the republican presidental nomination. Notwithstanding the action and talk of a few of the over-zealous friends of some of the republican candidates, your correspondent has no hesitation whatever in asserting that the contest for the nomination will not be allowed either before or during the St. Louis convention to degenerate into a cat and dog fight that will leave sores for the democrats to throw salt on during the campaign. Each of the candidates have warm supporters among the national leaders of the republican party, and each of these leaders will use every honorable effort to bring about the nomination of his candidate, as he has a perfect right to do, but there will be no blows below the belt with their sanction, and when the nomination shall have been made every man of them will be found cordially supporting the nominee. In Washington these things are well known because republicans all know the cordial person relations which exist between Speaker Reed, Govs. McKinley and Morton, and Senators Allison, Cullom, and Quay, and that should any one of the six be chosen that he would receive no warmer or more heartfelt congratulation than would come from the other five, but they are here written for the special benefit of those republicans who sometimes make the mistake of getting their information as to republican affairs or the democratic or assistant democratic press.

Representative McCall, of Mass., has not been impressed with the alleged reform in the consular service by the Cleveland administration. On the contrary, Mr. McCall thinks our consular service might be improved in many ways which would add to its efficiency, and he has introduced a bill providing for a thorough investigation of the system by a non-partisan commission, which shall report a plan of reorganization to the President in time to be acted upon by the fifty-fifth congress at its first session. The bill is now in the hands of the committee on Foreign Affairs, and Mr. McCall hopes to get it favorably reported and placed on the calendar before the close of the present session and to get it passed on the next session.

Speaker Reed's explanation of why he reversed his ruling in the fifty-first Congress, that the presence of a majority of the entire number of members entitled to seats in the House was necessary to consitute a quorum, and last week ruled that a majority of the living members of the House was a legal quorum is perfectly logical. He was compelled to make his first ruling on short notice and not desiring to take any chance chose that view of the question which could not possibly be upset by the Courts at the time. It will be remembered that the democrats were threatening to carry every ruling he made into the Conrts. Since then he has made a careful study of the matter and become satisfied that a majority of living members are a constitutional quorum.

For the second time since he has been a member of the Senate Senator Quay's committee room has been burglarized. The first time was in 1888, when he was Chairman of the Republican National Committee. There is no doubt that the object of the burglary in both instances was the same-political information, which was thought could be obtained from Mr. Quay's private papers. The last burglary was no more successful than the first, as about three weeks ago the Senator had all his important private papers removed from his committee room to his house. Mr. Quay's health has not been good of late and his physican has ordered him to Florida to remain there until the weather gets warmer in Washington. He declined to discuss this last burglary before his departure further than to say that somebody had taken a lot of trouble and the chance for a term in the penitentiary for nothing.

The Cuban question is now up to Mr. Cleveland, the House voted in favor of the original Senate concurrent resolution, declaring in favor of the immediate recognition of the belligerency of the Cubans and of taking steps looking towards the independence of Cuba. Nobody seems to be authorized to say whether Mr. Cleveland will pay any attention to these resolutions, but the impression prevails in Washington that he will not. Many believe that the report, prevalent here a month or two ago, that Mr. Cleveland had promised the Spanish minister to take no action before June, was true.

Hard Fighters in Law.

"Clients love a hard fighter, and the onlookers are impressed with his zeal," says Richard D. Doyle in an article on "Law and Lawyers" in the Southern Magazine. "In my own experience I have had cases where I advised my clients not to sue because I was sure they had no chance, although they followed my advice, instead of employing other counsel, they refused to pay a reasonable fee and in one case left me to pay the court costs. And I have seldom advised a client to compromise or submit to arbitration that I did not displease him. It requires moral courage to advise one against his inclinations, but it is sometimes a lawyer's sacred duty. What ever may be said as to its morality or true wisdom, yet I must say I regard this aggressive and partisan spirit more conductive to modern success than profound judgement, for I have seen lawyers succeed chiefly by reason of it in whom the logical faculty was not at all conspicuous. In speaking of success, it will be observed that I do not mean the eminence of such men as Erskine, Writ, Webster, William Pinckney, Rufus Choate and Charles O'Conor, but such success as is attained by the leading members of the bar in every town or city of the United States, who have a good practice, sometimes very lucrative, though they are unknown to fame and forgotten outside their neighborhood when they are gone."

Democracy will get There.

The old legend, "Pike's Peak or bust," which used to adorn the canvas covers of emigrant wagons in the old days, has been succeeded by various signs appropriate to the changed and changing location of the boomers' paradise. A big prairie schooner passed through Osborn, Kan., bound east from Oklahoma last week, bearing the inscription; "Oklahoma for starvation Kansas for desolation, Texas for devestation, Kansas for damnation. Going to Ohio to sponge on wife's relation. To hell with Democratic administration."—Jewell Co. Kansas Republican.

Why he Was Apprehensive.

"Scuse me, suh," he said as he approached one of the attaches of the Smithsonian institution, "but I wante tor ax yoh sumfin."

"What's the matter?" was the inquiry. Are you looking for something to eat?"

"N'ndeed. I ain't hungry. I wants sci'ntific information. I want to know 'bout dese hyan X rays dat dey's takin de phortygrafs wif. Dey done tells me dey kin take picters right fro yer. Dat when dey goes after ye wif one er dem, yer skin an ye clo's ain' no 'tection 't all."

"That's what they claim."

"An ef I dun hed chicken foh dinner, I 'sposn dey could jes fro me down an take a picter ob do chicken."

"I believe the theory is something like that."

"Da' whut I thought. Da's whut I thought. But yere's whut I done come ter ax yer. Does yer b'lieve dat dey could git er good 'nuff likeness ob de chicken ter inable de owner ter reco'nize him?"—Washington Star.

Will Not Enforce the Law.

The compulsory education law passed by the State legislature May 16, 1895 is having a hard road to some counties, the commissioners having decided that they will not have a registration of school children in their counties made because the law, which is very faulty, does not designate assessors to be procured.

The law provides that the assessors "shall be paid a per diem compensation for their service, a sum equal to the compensation paid under existing laws for assessors of election, said service not to exceed ten days." The registration assessors are paid two dollars per day. While the law provides that the compensation shall be so much per diem it does not explicitly say where this compensation shall be procured.

The commissioners of Franklin county have not yet determined whether they will make a census. The matter is under advisement: Last year the assessors were paid for their work, including the school census, $4320.46. What proporation of this was for the census is not set forth in the annual statement of the commissioners.

The county comissioners of Lancaster have decided to be governed by the action of the commissioners of other counties over the question of the registration of school children, as provided by the compulsory school law. Registration must be made by the registry assessors, but the law does not designate where the money for their service is to be secured.

In that county the expense would be $2,000 and as the commissioners decline to take the responsibility of this expenditure, it is not likely the compulsory education law will be put into effect this year.

The county commissioners of Chester and Delaware counties have jointly decided not to enforce the compulsory education law for this year.

Castoria is truly a marvelous thing for children. Doctors prescribe it, medical journals recommend it and more than a million mothers are useing it in place of Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, so-called soothing syrups and other narcotic and stupefying remedies. Castoria is the quickest thing to regulate the stomach and bowels and give healthy sleep the world has ever seen. It is pleasant to the taste absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, quiets pain, cures diarrhoea and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms, and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mother's friend.

Castoria is put up in one size bottles only. It is not sold in bulk. Don't allow any one to sell to sell you anything else on the plea or promise that it is "just as good" and "will answer every purpose." See that you get C-A-S-T-O-R-I-A.

AT THE CATHOLIC.

The Easter services at the Catholic church were beautiful and imposing. The music was unusually fine and was under the charge of Miss Mary McClain. The floral decorations were very pretty causing many flattering comments from those who saw them. Each service was largely attended. The subject of the sermon was "The Resurrection" and was ably discussed by Father McArdle. Low mass was held at 8 a. m. at which more than one hundred people communed. The music was furnished by members of the B. O. M. Sodality. High mass was held at 10.30 a. m. and Vespers at 7.30 p. m.

Extreme tired feeling afflicts nearly everybody at this season. The hustlers cease to push, the tireless grow weary, the energetic become enervated. You know just what we mean. Some men and women endeavor temporarily to overcome that

Tired

Feeling by great force of will. But this is unsafe, as it pulls powerfully upon the nervous system, which will not long stand such strain. Too many people "work on their nerves," and the result is seen in unfortunate wrecks marked "nervous prostration," in every direction. That tired ing is a positive proof of thin, weak, impure blood; for, if the blood is rich, red, vitalized and vigorous, it imparts life and energy to every nerve, organ and tissue of the body. The necessity of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for that tired feeling is, therefore, apparent to every one, and the good it will do you is equally beyond question. Remember that

Slept Twenty Years in a Coffin.

It is seldom that a man dies in a coffin, but that is exactly what old Barney Fricker of Alliance, Ohio, did when he finally gave up the ghost in the fall of 1890. For more than 20 years old Barney had been haunted with the idea that he was on the verge of the grave. Every evening he declared that he would never again see the sun rise. He constantly brooded over his queer hallucination and never allowed him elf to go to sleep without being carefully prepared for death and burial. Every night he robed himself in his grave clothes and solemnly laid down in his coffin and passed the night firmly believing, and probably hoping, that for him the day would never dawn again. Finally death came; but, grim and sly as he was, he did not find old Barney unprepared. The coffin in which this queer old character had so often awakened disappointed, was of his own make, and was said to have been a curiosity in itself, being literally covered with all kinds, patterns and sizes of allegorical carving.—St. Louis Republic.

It May Mean A Big Strike.

Philadelphia, April 7.—The reported federation of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway employees and the American Railway union was confirmed to-day by the local leaders of the Amalgamated association. The American Railway union organizers are still here working among the yardmen, trackmen, brakemen and unskilled laborers of the Pennsylvania and Reading railroads.

The federation between the two associations is upon an offensive and defensive basis, but to just what extent the two organizations will be prepared to assist one another cannot be learned. It was further learned to-day that the practical amalgamation of the two associations is only a part of the plan of consolidation of railway employees that is under contemplation. It is said that the leaders of these two organizations are now negotiating with the chiefs of the Brotherhoods of Locomotive Engineers, Firemen and Railway Trainmen for the formation of one great confederation of street and steam railway employes. It is said that the recent visits of President Mahon, of the Amalgamated association to Toledo, Ohio, were for the purpose of conferring with the brotherhood chiefs upon this subject.

The street car situation here gives promise to again soon becoming involved. At a meeting yesterday of the central committee of the Amalgamated association a letter was received from President Mahon containing five grievances of the men here, which are to be submitted to President Welsh, of the Union Traction company, as an ultimatum. The grievances are practically the same as those which led to the strike here last winter. When this ultimatum will be presented to Mr. Welsh has not yet been decided upon, but it will probably be laid before him some time within a week. Local street car leaders are of the opinion that the the crisis here is grave and that a similar situation prevails in New York. It is said here that the abortive strike at Buffalo was unauthorized by the executive committee of the Amalgamated association and hence failed. It is not improbable that a great triangular strike in Buffala, New York and Philadelphia will be ordered.

Religious Conflict.

Cleveland, O., April 7.—There was a conflict between Ballington Booth's American Volunteers and Corps No. 1 of the Salvation army here to-day. It was a conflict of prayer and melody, however. The volunteers held their first public meeting in the public square. There were about twenty-five of the volunteers. Most of them wore the old Salvation army uniform and the Ballington Booth badge. A crowd of a thousand followed the Volunteers from the First Methodist Episcopal church, which had been packed at the Easter service. When the meeting in the square was in progress the Salvation army corps, with a brass band, appeared on the scene, drowning the prayers of the Volunteers. The meeting went on, however, and soon the two bands of soldiers were praying in different parts of the little park. There were many patriotic speeches by Volunteers. At the conclusion of the meeting the American flag, which the Volunteers had carried, was spread with a soldier at each corner, and all who desired to contribute were asked to do so by flinging their money on the flag. There was a shower of coins and a handsome contribution was the result. Afterward there were services at the First Methodist Episcopal church, that edifice being packed.

BOOM REPORT.

Lumbering Operations at Williamsport Last Year.

According to the report of the Williamsport boom company as published in the Gazette and Bulletin this morning, there were shipped from that city during the year 1895, 184,065,000 feet of lumber. These shipments as compared with the exports for the past sixteen years, rank fourteenth. The decrease in shipments last year, as compared with 1894, was 12,120,000 feet, which was hardly as marked as was the year before when the deficit was 78,150,000, but that was a flood year.

Up to January 1, 1896, there had been rafted out of the boom 945,714 separate logs, of which 785,659 were hemlock and the balance were pine and hard woods. These logs scaled 104,068,046 feet of hemlock and 21,717,394 feet of pine and hard woods. There was at th at time about 40 000,000 feet in the rear drive. Of this amount 10,000,000 feet have been rafte out since the accountt of 1895 was closed. Then 15,000,000 feet were tied up in the boom here, it being the intention to make every possible effort to hold them in event of an ice flood. Previous to the flood 10,000,000 feet had been piled on the banks of the river and its tributaries; there were 2,000,000 feet between the boom and Crane's island, and 3,000,000 feet in the river between that point and the rear of Flynn and Blackwell's drives at Lock Haven.

The stocking for 1896 will be about 150 000,000 feet.

Our Indians.

"Our Indians" is the title of a strong article by Hon. Hoke Smith, Secretary of the interior, published in the Youth's Companion of March 26.

Perhaps there is no national theme which arouses more quickly the sympathies of all fair minded Americans. The Indian who once had complete liberty to and occupied this fair land has found the United States Government a master whom he cannot understand. Secretary Smith gives much valuable information about the present condition and prospects of the Indians, their increasing numbers their education, and indicates the position of the present national administration toward them. He closes the article by saying: "While I have not criticised the action of our forefathers and of our fathers in the treatment of the Indians, I urge without hesitation that among this people can be found a field for missionary work as worthy of Christian zeal as in those countries far away from our own."

This article is one of a Series by American Statesmen, appearing in the Companion including articles by Hon. Thomas B. Reed, Hon. H. A. Herbert, Secretary of the Navy, and Hon. J. Sterling Morton, Secretary of Agriculture.

At the Gate of Paradise.

J. WILLIAM POPE.

"One morn a Peri at the gate
Of Eden stood disconsolate."

Tell me bright angel, dost thou keep the gate
Which shuts in Paradise? hast kept it long?
And tell me, hast thou seen pass through of late,
Rejoicing mid the everjoyful throng,
One whom to see is but to love, and know
Her heart is full of hope and faith divine?
Didst see her? She was mine, awhile ago,
And will through all eternity be mine.

Couldst let me through the portal take a view?
I may not enter I confess, for yet
I have not passed my earthly trials through,
But I grow restless, and at times I fret,
For her who was my comfort and my stay;
My anchor firm in midst of raging storm,
My star by night, my cheerful sun by day,
My angel, if one e'er were fleshly form.

Can't let me see! then here thou wilt no doubt
Permit my kneeling with my heart full sore,
And to the cherubs passing in and out
Dictate a message for her I adore:
Sweet cherubs, fold your wings of light,
And hear me, for I would endite,
A loving message to my spouse;
Tell her her cherished orange boughs
Are dead, the flow'rs have met decay,
And all because the sun by day
Is not so bright tell her the air
Has no perfumes that music's breath,
Is like the faintest sigh of death.
Tell her, dear cherubs, if a prayer
Of one redeemed's permitted there,
To pray her children may be blest,
Those darlings nestled on her breast,
And pray for—! Christ, hear her plea,
And answer when she pleads for me.

Iron and steel Trade Improving.

Pittsburg, April 3.—The American Manufacturer, in its edition to-morrow will say concerning the iron and steel trade:

"When it was announced, a few days ago, that the makers of Bessemer steel had united in an effort for higher rates, and had decided that $20 per ton should be the minmum rate for billets, the trade was to say the least, very much astonished. This matter remains the principal topic in trade circles during the week. It is yet rather early for even the best informed to predict what the effect will be. It is the general opinion that if the plan succeeds the entire iron and steel trade will be benefited. Certain it is, however, that the pig iron market has already felt, to some extent, the result of the movement, as Bessemer has made a material advance. Aside from the Bessemer movement the trade generally shows nothing new. Finished lines remain about as they were, and even pig iron is unmoved except in the cases of Bessemer. This is the principal objection made to the sudden advance in steel. It is argued that owing to the amount of finished stuff now on hand the advance will be some time in reaching the finished product. Meanwhile the finisher must suffer. The general opinion is that the next few weeks will see some interesting times in tae iron and steel trade, as things are now in a condition to be affected by comparatively little."

Bad Condition of Affairs at Barnesboro.

Philipsburg, Pa., April 3.—Philipsburg coal operators, interested in mines at Barnesboro, report a somewhat dangerous condition of affairs at that place, on account of a strike by the drivers for $1,80 per day. The three mines of the Aniston company were idle, but the company finally granted the demand. The Sterling company's No. 11 mine is idle, while the Delta company has succeeded in obtaining a few men to go to work. Those who are at work, fearing an attack on the part of those on strike, have armed themselves and threaten to shoot if they are interfered with. Barnesboro is a new mining town in Cambria county.

Attempted to Wreck a Train.

Media, Pa., April 3.—Two colored brothers named Lloyd were arrested today and committed to jail for attempting to wreck a passenger train on the Media and West Chester railroad last evening. The boys, it is alleged, placed a big pile of stones upon the track between Cheyney and West Town stations and took up a position a short distance away to see what would happen. The engineer saw the stones, but not in time to bring the train to a halt before reaching the obstruction. The stones were knocked off without doing any damage. When asked why they put the stones on the track they said they wanted to see some fun.

"HE THAT WORKS EASILY, WORKS SUCCESSFULLY." CLEAN HOUSE WITH

SAPOLIO

Fiddling Jimmy.

He was long, lank and lean, light haired, with pale blue eyes, the product of the Missouri bottoms, where things sprout up with such amazing quickness and then mature with so much deliberation.

When he dropped from a train at Dodge City, he had an old fashioned carpet sack in one hand and under his other arm was a fiddle in a faded brown bag. He looked about him in wonderment at the river and the rolling, treeless country merging into the sky far away to the south and then again at the long crowded street on the other side. He looked but for a moment however, and then proceeded to the office of the Southwestern Stage company. His inquiry there was short and to the point.

"Have ye got airy job a fellow kin do?"

This was years ago, when Dodge was the end of the overland cattle drive and fully entitled to its reputation of a wild and wolly town. To the south for a few miles was a sprinkle of settlers and beyond that all was lonesome and inhospitable.

The Southwestern company always had vacancies. Along the many routes were certain relay stations, some of which were sure to be in need of keepers. There was one line in particular, running down to Tascosa, on the South Canadian in Texas, a stretch of 250 miles, and just a little over half way was a station, No. 13, where a man was needed at once. The pay was $40 a month. The duties were simply to watch half a dozen mules and have a team ready for the weekly buckboard that performed all the transportation, the freight being usually two of Uncle Sam's mail sacks. The company supplied a gun, ammunition, flour, coffee, salt and groceries. Truly it seemed a bonanza to our knight of the violin.

There was no haggling over terms, and Jim Dunsberry, fiddle and carpet-bag were dispatched the very next morning to the field of his new labors. And Jim was duly dubbed Fiddling Jimmy by clerk, driver and all who came in contact with him.

Jimmy had been duly informed that he would find things "sorter" lonesome out at No. 13, but had responded that he didn't "keer a durn" for being by himself. The fiddle was plenty of company so his grub came regular.

Now, there were certain things about No. 13 that had been discreetly overlooked in the telling. It was 35 miles from the stations on either side and consisted of a square hole dug at the top of a steep bank overlooking a water hole in one of those plain creeks where such holes occur at long intervals, the remainder being simply a grass-grown depression. The hole was roofed with cottonwood poles, upon which dirt had been thrown—a dug-out pure and simple. There was a rude fire-place and a hole for a chimney. There was Jimmy's residence. There was a stockade up on the flat for the mules, and with this you have the station complete.

No man who knew the country could be induced to take No. 13 for love or money, so the company had to depend upon the ignorant and the transient. The country was full of rustlers and cow thieves. Occasional gangs of Indians from the nation used to slip along there, bent on any deviltry that came handy. When No. 13 was occupied it was a shining mark for such gentry. The last occupant had been found, not a fortnight before lying down on the flat with a with a bullet in the back of his head. The man before him had a thirty mil ride for life and a month in bed from a broken leg by a Winchester bullet. On each occasion No. 13 had been gutted and the mules run off.

But in blissed ignorance Jimmy took possesion of his new home. The buckboard rattled away, the driver looking back, sympathetic but non-commital.

For some weeks all went quiet and peaceful. It was the pleasant season of the early autumn. Jimmy put a line in the water hole and had fish whenever he wanted. Twice he shot antelope coming down to drink and revelled in fresh meat. He shot everything of any size that had wings and feathers, and being unversed to what was good or bad he eat cooked and tasted it. Some he ate and some he threw away. The buckboards came by with prompt regularity, dumping off a sack of flour or meal, and the report came weekly to headquarters that the "feller with the fiddle out on the Lost Creek han't been pestered yet."

The "feller" put in his days watching his stock, fishing, hunting, cooking and when the chill of evening came after supper he would throw a little wood on his fire, draw upa soap box seat and play on the fiddle until he was sleepy enough to roll up in his blankets on the floor and sleep the sleep of the man perfect in health and conscience.

But one evening when the shadows had fallen on all the valleys and the upland, when there was but a lighter over the west to snow where the sun had bidden its daily farewell, there came slinking up Lost Creek, Crawling Wolf and seven of his dirty, ill smelling brethren, foul birds of the night, ready for anything from petty larceny up to murder, provided the situation allowed crime without danger to the criminal.

They had a herd of stolen ponies corralled some miles below and were coming up to see what No. 13 might afford in the way or diversion. In single file they flitted along noiselessly as shadows, now and then stopping, heads up, to listen, as is the wont of beasts of prey. Suddenly Wolf stopped shorter and more suddenly than usual, given vent to a startled grunt. All stopped rigid as statues, to listen. A faint wind rustled for a moment, died down, and then from afar came an unwonted sound in the wilderness. It was the sound of Jimmy's fiddle.

Cautionsly the Indians crept closer and closer, stopping now and then to listen, until they reached the foot of the bank at the water hole. Just above them shone the light from the dug out entrance. The noise of the tortured fiddle was loud and clear, and at times Jimmy's voice was uplifted in old hymns and camp meeting songs reminiscent of other days back in Missouri. Quiet, but swift as crawling snakes, the intruders swept up the incline of the clay bank. A moment later they swarmed in on the musician. Jimmy was sitting at the side of his fireplace, and his Winchester was near the door. Thus he was cut off from his only weapon.

When those Indians came in, filling up the little dug out, I doubt if in all the world there was a more surprised and frightened being than keeper of No. 13. The music ceased. The hand that wielded the bow had dropped as if paralyzed, Jimmy stared at the apparition, while old Wolf smiled hopocritically and grunted 'How!" Somewhat reassured by this apparent sociability, Jimmy managed to gasp out, "Howdy do?"

The sons of the desert delibertly sat down on the bare floor, and old Wolf once more grunted out:

"Play fiddle more."

Jimmy played something at once, and of course after awhile wound up with a flourish all performers do, and stopped.

The sober audience gave no sign of approval or dislike. They sat perfectly still, except that their little eyes glittered and shone in the fire-light like diamonds. But when Jimmy stopped Wolf grunted out:

"More."

Jimmy played more and kept on in response to the request after each cessation. Finally he lowered the bow and protested

"I'd like to be obliging, but I'm getting too tired."

Wolf simply loosened a Winchester from the folds of a dirty blanket, cocked it and presented it at the protestor's body, grunting again:

"Play more. Much heap. Damn quick."

There was an immediate revival of musical activity.

And so they kept the frightened fiddler at his work. He played his whole repertory over and over again, the audience never caring for the repetition. The night wore on. Far over the flats came the answering browls of the melancholy coyotes quavering and dying away in a long drawn note of utter lonesomeness but the sound of the fiddle never ceased. A late moon rose and slowly climbed toward the zenith. The big dipper in the northern sky dropped down and around the polar star as though time were not the essence of the performance. Still the sound of the constant fiddle vibrated in the chill air. At last over in the east came a faint streak of light, and then all creation grew dim and gray. And with the first light Crawling Wolf stood up and shook himself. His brethren did likewise. They took Jimmy's rifle and everything portable on the premises, never allowing him to cease for a moment, then quietly filed out and disappeared in the morning mists.

About 10 o'clock next morning the keeper of Station No. 12, over on the Beaver, happening to look up, saw something coming very rapidly over the hills from the southwest. The something soon resolved itself into a man on the back of some creature. As it came closer it was apparent that the creature was a mule running for dear life, while the man was using both hands and feet with great energy. The mule stopped, all blown and wet, in front of the station, and the man fell off in a dead faint. He had a broken fiddle bow in one hand and in the other a ruined fiddle, the body part beaten to a frazzle and the strings flying all about in a perfect maize of tangles.

And the very next driver to arrive at Dodge City announced to the powers at the stage office:

"Fiddlin' Jimmy's done quit."

Valuable Horses Burned.

The fire was caused by the explosion of an oil oil stove in one of the cleaner's rooms. There were thirty horses in McDonald's string most of which arrived last Thursday. The stables were owned by C. J. Hamlin, and were valued at $10,000. The losses on the horses is estimated at abont $75,000.

Kidney Trouble Cured.

The Importance of knowing just what to do when one is afflicted with kidney disease or troubles of a urinary nature, is best answered by the following letter which was recently published in the Poughkeepsie, N. Y., News-Press:

Millertown, Dutchess Co., N.Y.

"Dr. David Kennedy, Dear Sir:—For more than eighteen months I was so badly afflicted with kidney trouble I could scarcely walk a quarter of a mile without almost fainting. I did not gain any until I began to use Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. After using the first bottle I noticed a decided improvement which continued, and I know that saved my life, for I was in a miserable condition up to the time I began to take it—my friends thought I would never be better.

My sister also has been very sick with bladder trouble for over a year, so bad that quantities of blood would come from her. She suffered at times most frightful pain, and nothing seemed to help her until she began to use Dr. David Kennedy Favorite Remedy. She is now using her third bottle, and is like a different person.

"If you must read my secrets, do it now," he said desperately. Then turning his back upon her, he deftly snatched her photograph from the table and pressed it hard against his bosom.

When by the aid of a powerful X ray, she saw herself pictured in the innermost recesses of her husband's anatomy, she fell into his arms in such a paroxysm of love and confidence that he went to the club four evenings in succession before the good results were over.—New York Herald.

Both Getting Better.

Lancaster, Pa., April 5.—Word comes from Coatesville that Bertha McConnell, the girl who shot her betrayer, Harry Thompson, and then attempted suicide, is slowly improving, and will undoubtedly get well. Harry Thompson, her victim, is getting along nicely and it is thought that he will soon be all right again. The charge against Miss McConnell will therefore be a bailable offense, and for this reason the Lancaster county authorities will never get the girl within their jurisdiction until the time set for a trial. It is however quite certain that Thompson will never appear against her, in which event there can be no conviction.

"She's Hollow."

Washington Post.

Congressman Jack Robinson, of Pennsylvania, brought down the house Wednesday in his speech on the naval appropriation bill, by describing Mr. Cannon's emotions on first beholding a warship. The Illinois statesman, who by the way, was fighting a provision which Robinson was advocating, he said, sailed down the Potomac river one time, and at Norfolk was taken aboard one of the battleships. He had just come to congress from Illinois and his experience had all the charm of novelty. He looked around him on the deck with a bewildered air at the armaments and the smoke stack, and finally he cast his eye down the hold. One peep was sufficient; throwing up both arms in profound astonishment, he exclaimed.

"Great God! she's hollow!"

Before the house quieted down, and while Mr. Cannon was making his reply, Mr. Mahon, of Pennsylvania, asked the Illinoisian if he might interrupt him.

"I am sure," said Mahon, "the gentleman knows that a schooner is hollow." And there was another out burst of laughter.

"Yes," returned Cannon, "I know a schooner is hollow after the gentleman from Pennsylvania gets through with it."

—Circumstances alter cases—wearing ankle bracelets.

—Tramp jewelery will soon be all the rage in Bellefonte.

—Clearfield is to have a society of the Daughters of the Revolution.

—"Have you seen the chain gang? "Will soon be a common saying in Bellefonte.

—Compulsory education wouldn't cut much of a figure at Curtin township just now if school houses are going up.

—Miss Emma Holliday gave a delightful social for a number of her friends at the home of Col. J. L. Spangler on Tuesday evening.

—"Girls can whiten their hands by soaking them in dish water three times a day," says an exchange. Doubtless true, but the remedy is to severe.

—A house and barn in Howard township, owned by Edward Gomer, were burned to the ground on Saturday evening. The loss was considerable.

—Greensburg is after a new industry. Hughes & Megahan's shoe manufactory, now located at Williamsport, is after a new location, and Greensburgers are working for it.

—A bustling young lady went into the Racket store the other day and asked for a court house yard of calico and then wanted to scratch Mr. Spigelmyer's eyes out because he only measured her off three feet.

—The St. John's Catholic church was awarded the $1000 prize offered by the Pittsburg Times to the church obtaining the greatest number of subscribers for that paper.

—The warm weather is throwing out a good many loafers who have been spending the winter behind the kitchen stove while their wives are out trying to earn enough money to keep the wolf from the door.

Does your head feel as though some one was hammering it; as though a million sparks were flying out of the eyes? Have you horrible sickness of the stomach? Burdock Blood Bitters will cure you.

—It is a pretty nervy trick for one person to ask another into have some ice cream with him and then after it is eaten slide out and leave his guest pay for it. An instance of this kind took place at the Undine ball the other evening.

—The district stewards of the Altoona district, Central Pennsylvania conference Methodist Episcopal church will meet in the First church, Tyrone, at 1 p. m. on Thursday, April 16, to apportion the benevolent collections to the several charges and transact other business.

—It is rather strange that those law abiding God's chosen people down at Woodward were not included on the pay list of the Sheriff's posse as well as the few from Bellefonte. The Gazette—Democrat combine should now come to their aid and demand that their proteges be treated as well as the others. Funny how quiet they keep on this point isn't it?

—One will not dare blame the tramps for adopting the Trilby craze when they adorn their feet with borough jewelry in Bellefonte. We would suggest that the council provide a foot bath establishment in consideration of the feelings of the man who fastens the ball and chain on the ankles of the Weary Willies.

—"The New York Clipper," in speaking of the Drummer Boy of Shiloh, says: "The Drummer Boy of Shiloh" was presented at the Academy of Music, Reading, Pa., Feb. 24 to 27, and never before in the history of Reading amusements was there such a rush for seats.

"The Drummer Boy of Shiloh" will be produced in Bellefonte on April 29, 30 and May 1st. Watch for further announcements.

—Mr. Huggins and Miss Dimple had been discussing marriage in an impersonal manner, when the young lady announced her preference in this way: "The man I marry must be handsome, talented, amiable, courageous, and without a fault of any sort whatever." "This is very sudden," replied Mr. Huggins. "I thoroughly appreciate the honor you confer upon me, but you will give me a week to consider, I suppose?"

—At the opera house on next Tuesday evening Saumet's famous tragedy, the Gladiator, will be given by the well known tragedian, Robert Downing, and a large and powerful company. This is the play which Mr. Downing, early in his career, purchased from the elder Salvini, and which has proven a favorite with Mr. Downing's patrons, as affording the actor fitting opportunity for the display of those characteristics of art and person which have made him a chief figure on the heroic stage of our time. The play is intense in interest, sensational in climaxes, broad in sympathies, and vital in dealing with human passions. It is filled with charms for the lover of stage effect. It loses none of its drawing power from the fact that its sensationalism is of a healthy kind and far removed from the clap-trap and fustian of English melodrama.

IN THE TOILS.

"Roscoe Gumper Arrested for Furnishing Liquor to Intemperate People.

For several weeks "Roscoe" Otto Gumper of any place has been visiting Bellefonte presumably for his health, and while here has made many acquaintances. His stay in this city has been interspersed with a variety seldom encountered by but a few.

His boarding place he changed about every four days probably because too much of one climate was not beneficial to his health. Anyway he has sampled the table at almost every boarding house in town and his opinion of them all is that they are all good "free" lunch resorts.

Several days ago he had some boys arrest for trespassing but withdrew the prosecution upon the boys paying the costs.

On Friday he himself was arrested for furnishing a pint of whiskey to Bernard Morrison, and in the custody of chief Montgomery he promenaded to Fort Condo. On his way to his present boarding place he stopped in Cunningham's cigar Palace and asking to see Mitch, said he wanted a package of tobacco as he had to go up to the jail for a while. His tone of voice left Cunningham under the impression that he was just going up to the jail on business but that was only another peculiar trait of the world famous "Roscoe." So now he is sampling the county's free lunch resort and his opinion of is it awaited with much interest.

A funny story is told of "Roscoe" and how smooth he really is: After he had already passed judgment on one or two boarding houses he took up his abode at the Brant House. He stayed there about four days when Mr. Yeager the proprietor told him he would make him a present of the four days' board but that he must now get out. It happened to be the day that the "Princess Bonnie" company was in town and quite a number of the troupe happened to be on the McBride corner at Bishop street right across the street from the Brant House. The show people were looking for a hotel and "Roscoe" seeing them took in the situation at a glance. Quickly going across the street to them he inquired if they were looking for a hotel and receiving an affirmative reply he took their grips and marched them up to the Kellar House. For this he got another four days board free. It was showing a slight ingratitude to Proprietor Yeager, but "Roscoe" was looking out for himself and worked his cards accordingly.

It is thought the man is a little queer and his actions fully certify this opinion. He is now in jail and will stay there until the courts decide what shall be done with him.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

William Parkes of this place who is employed at the ore mines met with an adventure on Monday afternoon which he will not forget very soon.

Mr. Parkes and his son Harry were driving home from the mines on Monday evening after their day's work was over and coming along Bishop street near the Brick School House when a little girl ran across the road directly in front of the horse. This so frightened the animal that it reared and plunged and finally broke away. Mr. Parkes and Harry were both thrown out onto the road and the buggy was completely demolished. Mr. Parkes sustained some painful injuries to his left shoulder, besides being badly bruised all over. His son Harry escaped with a few bruises, but both were naturally pretty badly scared. It was at first thought that Mr. Parkes had fractured his shoulder blade but an examination showed this to be untrue. It was a very narrow escape and the greatest wonder is that it didn't result more seriously than it did.

She's a Beauty.

Ne-ha-sa-ne the big passenger engine No 6 on the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania has just been brought home from the repair shops at Jersey Shore. She is now the finest engine that rolls into Bellefonte and is a credit to the Central. A thorough overhauling was made on her and she now presents a beautiful appearance. Clean as a new pin she stands out as proud as a peacock. Engineer Gilmore and Ne-ha-sa-ne are great friends ane the former is justly very much elated over the latter's new robes. When it comes to improvements and efficient service the Central surpasses them all.

Not There.

A printing office is usually considered a rather rough place, and the newspaper worker a rather hard fellow. Statistics, however, do not bear out that idea. Of 3,890 convicts in the state penitentiary of Texas there is not a printer or newspaper man, while there are ministers, doctors, bankers, barbers, photographers, barkeepers, cooks, and members of almost all professions and callings. The printer gets a bad name because the nature of his business teaches him to detest sham, and he scorns the hypocrit.

Death at Scotia.

John Love of Patton Township died at his home on Saturday March 28 after an illness dating back about ten weeks. The deceased was aged about 59 years and is survived by a wife and nine children. He was a step-father of Mrs. Henry Lowry of this place.

No need to suffer with rheumatism, lumbago, neuralgia, cramps or colic. Dr Thomas' Electric Oil cures all such troubles, and does it quickly.

A BIG SUCCESS.

The Undine Ball on Monday Evening was Largely Attended.

The Undine Easter Ball at Bush's Arcade on Monday evening was a grand success in every partticular The attendance was large but the best order maintained throughout the entire evening.

About 8.30 the Undine Band made it's appearance on the streets and rendered several very pretty selections before going to the dancing hall. The grand march was set for 9 o'clock but long before that the large room commenced to fill up with dancers and spectators. On the stage at the East End of the hall were seated the members of the Undine Band waiting for the signal to play. A column was soon formed and the grand march was commenced. It was skillfully led by Mr. John Holleran of Pittsburg and Miss Sarah Vallance of Bellefonte. It was without exception the prettiest march ever held in the Arcade. The different letters of the alphabet were gracefully cut out by the participants after which they massed up in the centre of the room in a beautiful pyramid.

The orchestra then took it's place on the stage and the dancing commenced. Many pretty gowns were worn by the ladies and as they danced with the gallant fine laddies, who were in full uniform, the scene was one of beauty and grace. Everybody was in a good humor and not a single instance occured to mar the evening's enjoyment. Refreshments were served during the intermissions thus affording everyone a chance to obtain something to eat. The dancing was kept up until a reasonable hour when the lights were turned out and everybody started for home feeling that it had been a glorious evening all through. The different committees deserve much credit for the grand success of the whole affair.

Cleaning Up.

The street committee of the town council is at present busily engaged in cleaning up and repairing the streets throughout the town. The paved street in front of the court house was swept this morning and broken stone distributed over the other different streets that were needing repairs. The county commissioners had the sod in the court house yard cleaned up and now green grass is commencing to make its appearance. This kind of work is a credit to the town only it should be more general.

This One's a Boy.

HORSES AND CATTLE BURNED.

A House and Barn at Wallace Run Totally Destroyed by Flames.

A disastrous fire was that on Tuesday at Wallace Run, near Unionville, by which the house and barn owned by John Lucas were burned to the ground.

It seems that Lucas went out to the barn to feed the stock this morning about 5 o'clock. It was necessary to take a lantern with him to be able to see, as it was not yet daylight. In some way or other the lantern set fire to some straw in the barn and before help could arrive that building was all ablaze and the flames had spread to the house. The high wind retarded the efforts of the fire fighters, and soon both buildings were in ashes. Five head of cattle and a colt, which were in the barn, were burned, together with considerable farming machinery and the remains of last year's crops. But little of the household furniture was saved, as the work of the flames was fast and fierce. The amount of the damage is not known.

Prize Essays.

The literary exercises at the Bellefonte High School on Monday afternoon were confined to the reading of the essays that have been entered in the prize essay contest. Those who participated were as follows:

Death at Vernona.

Mrs. Lucinda Wilson of Vernona, died at her late home at 12 o'clock Monday night aged about 64 years. The deceased had only been ill about a month with the grip when death came to ease her suffering. Her husband was an old soldier and was killed on the railroad several years ago. Two sons and three daughters survive her. The funeral will be held on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made at the new Forge cemetery.

Penns Valley.

W. J. Finkle of Farmer's Mills, moved to Spring Mills last week.

Ezra Auman of Meyers' Mills, Brush Valley, moved to Farmers' Mills on the 1st inst. He will take charge of the roller mill in that village (estate of J. B. Fisher) this week.

Las week I noticed M. Shires of Spring Mills, the ubiquitous insurance agent, down our valley. By the way, he is also connected with a Johnstown party in manufacturing fire escapes. It is something new and can be brought into requisition at a moment's notice—its a good idea.

David Burrell moved from Spring Mills on Wednesday last, to Centre Hall, into the residence formerly occupied by Sheriff Spangler.

Moving is about over. In Spring Mills, I am informed, they are short of dwellings, and some families were obliged to submit to many inconveniences and locate with two, sometimes three, families in one building. This is unusual.

Edward Ruhle moved from the Old Fort Inn to the old and well known hotel stand in Centre Hall on the 2nd inst. Mr. Ruhle is the son of D. H. Ruhle, the popular landlord of Spring Mills. They are both first-class hotel men.

Howard Rossman, the able manager of the large establishment of C. P. Long, (candidate for county treasurer), at Spring Mills, gets off some pretty "tough yarns" of late, and delivers them, too, in an admirable manner—a stoic would be forced to smile. Mr. R. thoroughly understands the retail department of a store; in that respect he has few equals, and I question very much if a superior in Centre county. He has been in Mr. Long's employ for the last eight or ten years.

Herman of Lemont, republican candidate for sheriff, was in our valley on Friday last, visiting his old friends and courting new ones. I hear considerable of A. V. Miller of late, also Smith of Bellefonte. Gingrich of College township has some friends here, while Cooke of Howard has quite a following throughout the valley, He seems to be growing in popularity. Among the democrats for sheriff Runkle of Bellefonte stands well in this neighborhood; also Parker of Philipsburg. Cronister of Worth township is likewise fairly well spoken of. Leyman of Boggs, and Gilliland of Snow Shoe, appear not to be so well known here. Meyers of Boalsburg, democratic candidate for county commissioner, was at Spring Mills last week, ostensibly visiting his father-in-law, Elias Fetterolf, but in reality to survey the political atmosphere. The professor is well known and very popular in this section of the county.

No doubt when the weather settles down to something like actual spring we will have a general picnic of candidates, and when the time approaches for the conventions to meet the mercury in the political thermometer, in all probability, will run up to blood heat.

Would-be-sheriff, W. B. Krape of Gregg township, stopped for dinner, one day last week, at the "Hotel Condo" at Bellefonte. I have not yet learned whether he has made arrangements with any factories for his supply of carpets, rugs and mattings. Possibly he may conclude that the present furnishings of the jail will answer, or,—have you made a sale of the effects, sheriff?

Has Gone to the Hospital.

Mrs. Jacob H. Miess of East Curtin street departed this morning for St. John's Hospital at Philadelphia to undergo another operation which will be the third one since October. The operation will be performed on Friday morning by Dr. Locke of this place and Dr. Fisher of Philadelphia. We sincerely hope she will be restored to perfect health before she returns home to her little children and husband. This is a season of trouble to them. May God be with them and comfort them.

He Didn't Stay.

Early this morning a man with a "great big ba'ar" struck Bellefonte with fancies flitting through his head of how he would amuse the school children and then get their pennies. The usual "move along over there" grated on his ears before he had been in town five minutes, and although he didn't want to, Officer Garis started him on his way to some other town, there perhaps to meet with the same kind of a reception.
